GOVERNMENT'S POSITION.

Stated in a Case Involving The Employers' Liability Law.

Washington, May 4.—The government brief in the case of Edgar D. Mondon vs. the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, brought under the employers' liability act, was filed in the supreme court at Hartford, Hartford county, Connecticut. The defendant company challenged the constitutionality of the act and the position of the company is attacked in the government brief.

The government claims that the objections against the former liability act, declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, have been removed and that the present act is clearly constitutional. President Roosevelt's message of May 25, 1908, urging the passage of an act in accordance with the decision of the supreme court and the suggestion contained in which was followed by Congress, is quoted. The questions raised in this case, it is asserted, have already been decided by the supreme court.

The brief calls the act in question "a wise, progressive and humane statute."

How a New Hampshire Woman Cured Herself of Lack of Blood

"I have always worked hard," says Mrs. M. Durkee, of Goff's Falls, N. H., "and was in a run-down condition when I began to suffer with lack of blood. I noticed at first that I was having frequent dizzy spells with fits of faintness. My back was weak, my appetite was poor and I was often sick to my stomach. My complexion was sallow, I lost nearly fifteen pounds in weight and kept growing weaker.

"The doctor said I had anemia and he treated me for it. When I saw that his medicine wasn't helping me, I thought I would give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. This was after I had been ailing for five years. I knew from the first box that the pills were helping me and kept on using them until entirely cured. I felt like a new person. I haven't used any medicine since I was cured of the anemia."

Protest Over Jeff Davis' Portrait on Ship's Plate.

Washington, May 4.—A protest against the action of the state of Mississippi in presenting a silver service, bearing a portrait of Jefferson Davis, to its namesake in the navy, was offered in the House yesterday in the form of a resolution by Representative Hollingsworth of Ohio. The resolution calls upon the secretary of the navy for all information in his possession relative to the matter, and in substance questions the propriety of the government accepting a silver service for use on one of its ships bearing the counterfeit presentation of the late leader of the Confederacy.

KILLS SON, COMMITS SUICIDE.

Woman Also Severely Wounds a Boston Man.

Stafford Springs, Conn., May 4.—Driven insane apparently by the sight of a memorial card, which she had ordered for her daughter Elsie, who died about a month ago, Mrs. Bernard Rister this morning beat Charles E. Emory of Boston, who had called to deliver the cards, over the head with an axe, inflicting very serious wounds, shot and killed her two-year-old son Bernard and then took her own life by sending a bullet through her heart.

About two weeks ago Mrs. Rister gave an order for a memorial card for her daughter Elsie, fourteen years old. Emory came from Boston yesterday morning to deliver it. According to his story, Mrs. Rister seemed pleased with the work. He had turned from her for a moment, he said, thinking that she had gone to the other side of the room to care for her baby. At that moment he felt a stinging blow on the head. As he turned the axe brought the blunt end of the weapon down on his head. Weak and dazed, he got out of the house. The woman pursuing, overtook him easily, and brought him to the ground. She was holding him down and had the axe uplifted to strike him again when two men, Leon Rounds and C. E. Olsen, the latter traveling for a Boston concern, came into sight in a team. They cried out to the woman, and distracting her attention, rushed up and seized her. She broke away from them and ran into the house. While they were assisting the wounded man they heard a shot in the house.

The woman, after entering the house, had shot her two-year-old son through the head and then herself through the heart. Emory's wounds, though serious, are not fatal.

ADVOCATES PEACE.

Mr. Taft Would Do Everything Possible to Avoid War.

Chicago, May 4.—The following is the text of a letter written by President Taft to Secretary Royal L. Melendy of the peace congress and which was read at the opening of that body today.

"My dear Sir—I greatly regret that I am unable to attend the coming national peace congress at Chicago and there to express my earnest sympathy with the object of the assembling of so many distinguished men in the interest of world peace. That progress has been made in the matter of peace everywhere by international action and by the pressure of the peoples of the earth, any one who has examined the record must admit.

"It is true that armaments go on increasing in cost, but it is also true that the burdens presented by this competition in armament are growing heavier and heavier and the problems for solution consistent with their increase become more and more difficult. The possibilities of war now arising come chiefly from irresponsibilities of government and in those countries where stability of internal control is lacking.

"The United States has contributed to peace by assisting countries weak in respect to their internal government so as to strengthen in them the cause of law and order. This relation of guardian and ward between nations and countries in my judgment helps along the cause of international peace and indicates progress in civilization. The policy of the United States in avoiding war in all circumstances except those plainly inconsistent with honor or its highest welfare, has been made so clear to the world as hardly to need statement at my hands.

"I can only say that so far as my legitimate influence extends, while at the head of this government, it will always be exerted in the full favor of peace, not only as between this country and other countries, but as between our sister nations.

(Signed) "Very sincerely yours, William H. Taft."
